SPECIAL FELLOWSHIPS

The National Intelligence Fellowship

This fellowship provides an opportunity for an outstanding person from the U.S. intelligence community on the cusp of a senior position to expand his or her knowledge of international relations through study, research and reflection, extensive participation in the Council's program of meetings and study groups, and interaction with the Council's diverse and knowledgeable members. The 2005–2006 National Intelligence Fellow was Nancy Bird.

The Military Fellowships

Each year, the chief of staff of each military service nominates an outstanding candidate for a military fellowship. These fellowships enable officers to broaden their understanding of international affairs and U.S. foreign policy by spending a year in residence at the Council. Fellows participate in Council programs, engage in research, and arrange several politico-military trips for Council members. The military fellows for 2005–2006 were Colonel Mark A. Bucknam, U.S. Air Force, and Colonel Peter R. Mansoor, U.S. Army.

The Douglas Dillon Fellowship

Each year, the Council names one of its younger fellows the Dillon Fellow, in honor of former Council Vice Chairman Douglas Dillon. Such fellows typically combine a keen understanding of economics with cutting-edge policy research in a given field, leading to several major published articles or a book during their fellowship tenure. The Dillon Fellowship is held by Steven A. Cook.

Henry Kaufman Senior Fellowship in International Economics and Finance

This fellowship was established in 1999 with a gift from the Henry and Elaine Kaufman Foundation. The fellowship focuses on the global integration of financial markets and their significance for U.S. economic and foreign policy. The fellowship is held by Roger M. Kubarych.

Edward R. Murrow Fellowship

The Council offers a resident fellowship for a correspondent, editor, or producer involved with international news. Named in honor of Edward R. Murrow and funded by the CBS Foundation, the fellowship offers a nine-month period for sustained study and writing, free from the pressures that characterize journalistic life. The 2005–2006 Murrow Fellow was Jane Arraf.

Bernard L. Schwartz Fellowship in Business and Foreign Policy

This fellowship was established in 2002 with a gift from the Bernard and Irene Schwartz Foundation and focuses on the global integration of financial markets and their significance for U.S. economic and foreign policy. The 2005–2006 Schwartz Fellow was David Braunschvig.

Whitney H. Shepardson Fellowship

The Shepardson Fellowship is periodically awarded to persons with experience and recognized professional stature in public or academic affairs related to international relations. A Shepardson Fellow is expected to spend about a year affiliated with the Council, participating in Council programs while working on a book or other significant publication on a major foreign policy issue. Peter B. Kenen was the 2005–2006 Shepardson Fellow.

Cyrus R. Vance Fellowship in Diplomatic Studies

The Vance Fellowship is offered to a foreign service officer chosen by a selection committee from candidates nominated by the U.S. Department of State. With time away from the day-to-day pressures of diplomatic life, the Vance Fellow spends about a year affiliated with the Council, reflecting on issues of foreign policy and participating in Council programs. The Vance Fellowship is held by Evans J.R. Revere.

LECTURESHIPS

The Darryl G. Behrman Lecture on Africa Policy

The Darryl G. Behrman Lecture on Africa Policy was funded by members of the Behrman family in memory of Darryl G. Behrman, who came to the United States from South Africa. He had a strong interest in the continent of his birth and in international peace and cooperation.

The Arthur C. Helton Memorial Lecture

The Arthur C. Helton Memorial Lecture was established by the Council and the family of Arthur C. Helton, who died in the August 2003 bombing of the United Nations headquarters in Baghdad. The Helton Lecture is an annual event at which one or more speakers address pressing issues in the broad field of human rights and humanitarian concerns. The Helton Lecture this year featured Francis M. Deng and Roberta J. Cohen on “Divided Nations: The Dilemmas of International Protection for Refugees and Internally Displaced Persons.”

The John B. Hurford Memorial Lecture

The John B. Hurford Memorial Lecture was inaugurated in 2002 in memory of John B. Hurford, a devoted member of the Council on Foreign Relations. This series is funded by the Hurford Foundation and features individuals who represent critical new thinking in international affairs and foreign policy. This year, Josef Joffe, editor of Die Zeit, spoke on his new book, Überpower: The Imperial Temptation of America.

The Russell C. Leffingwell Lecture

The Leffingwell Lecture, inaugurated in 1969, was named for a charter member of the Council who served as its president from 1944 to 1946 and as its chairman from 1946 to 1953. This lecture is given by a distinguished foreign official, who is invited to address Council members on a topic of major international significance. The lectures are made possible through the generosity of the Leffingwell family and the Morgan Guaranty Trust Company. The Leffingwell Lecture this year featured Prime Minister Recep Tayyip Erdogan of Turkey.

The David A. Morse Lecture

The David A. Morse Lecture was inaugurated in 1994 and supports an annual meeting and dinner with a distinguished speaker. It honors the memory of David A. Morse, an active Council member for nearly thirty years, a lawyer, a public servant, and an internationalist. Morse lecturers are invited to focus on one of Morse's many concerns, which include North-South relations, human rights, international organizations and labor, conflict resolution, and relations with Asia. The lecture program is funded by gifts from Council members and friends of the Morse family.

The David Rockefeller Lecture

The David Rockefeller Lecture was endowed by the Rockefeller Foundation in 1985 for an annual African lecturer from either the governmental or the nongovernmental sector. This year's lecture featured Ellen Johnson Sirleaf, the newly elected president of Liberia.

The Elihu Root Lecture

The Elihu Root Lecture was inaugurated in 1958 to honor a founder of the Council on Foreign Relations who served as its honorary president from 1921 to 1937. This lecture brings a distinguished American to the Council to reflect on his or her professional experience and how it applies to contemporary American foreign policy making.

The Russia and Russian-American Relations Lecture

This annual lecture was endowed by Alfa Bank to help establish a more secure footing for Russian-American relations. The Russia and Russian-American Relations Lecture this year featured Sergey Kiriyenko, director of the Russian Federal Atomic Energy Agency.

The Bernard L. Schwartz Lecture on Business and Foreign Policy

This lecture series was established in fall 2002 and is funded by the Bernard and Irene Schwartz Foundation. Mr. Schwartz is the retired chairman and CEO of Loral Space and Communications. The series focuses on two areas: the evolution of the relationship between business and government in the making of foreign policy, and ways for government to make better use of business in solving foreign policy problems and for business to become more engaged in the making of foreign policy. This year's Schwartz Lectures featured Craig Mundie, senior vice president and chief technical officer, advanced strategies and policy, at Microsoft Corporation, and Eric Schmidt, chairman and CEO of Google.

The Sorensen Distinguished Lecture on the United Nations

The Sorensen Distinguished Lecture on the United Nations was established in 1996 by Theodore C. Sorensen to honor his wife, Gillian Martin Sorensen, and to commemorate her years of service to the United Nations. The Sorensen lecture is given by speakers intimately involved with the workings and issues of the UN. The Sorensen lecturer this year was Paul A. Volcker, chair of the independent inquiry into the UN Oil-for-Food Program.

The John Train Lecture

The John Train Lecture and dinner were established in 1997. Funded by Council member John Train, the series focuses on new issues in military affairs and the future of the U.S. military. The John Train Lecture this year featured the service chiefs: General Michael W. Hagee, U.S. Marine Corps; General Peter J. Schoomaker, U.S. Army; Admiral Michael G. Mullen, U.S. Navy; and General T. Michael Moseley, U.S. Air Force.

The Paul C. Warnke Lecture on International Security

The annual Paul C. Warnke Lecture on International Security, endowed by a number of members and family and friends of Paul C. Warnke, commemorates his legacy of courageous service to the nation and international peace. The Warnke Lecture this year featured Hans Blix, chairman of the Weapons of Mass Destruction Commission and former executive chairman of the UN Monitoring, Verification, and Inspection Commission (UNMOVIC).
