Julia E. Sweig

Julia E. Sweig is the Nelson and David Rockefeller senior fellow for Latin America Studies and director for Latin America Studies at the Council on Foreign Relations (CFR). Dr. Sweig also directs CFR's Global Brazil Initiative and Cuba in the Twenty-First Century program.

She is the author of Cuba: What Everyone Needs to Know (Oxford University Press, 2009) and Friendly Fire: Losing Friends and Making Enemies in the Anti-American Century (PublicAffairs, 2006), as well as numerous publications on Latin America and American foreign policy. Dr. Sweig's Inside the Cuban Revolution: Fidel Castro and the Urban Underground (Harvard University Press, 2002) received the American Historical Association's Herbert Feis Award for best book of the year by an independent scholar. Dr. Sweig has overseen numerous CFR reports on Latin America: she was director for the Independent Task Force on Brazil (2011), senior advisor for the Independent Task Force on Latin America (2008), and director for the Independent Task Forces on the Andean region (2004) and Cuba (2001).

Dr. Sweig serves on the International Advisory Board of the Brazilian Center for International Relations (CEBRI) and on the editorial board of Foreign Affairs Latinoamérica. She was the Sol M. Linowitz Professor of International Relations, Hamilton College in 2011, and, from 1999-2008, served as a consultant on Latin American affairs for the Aspen Institute's Congressional Program. She frequently provides commentary for the major television, radio, and print media, speaking in both English and Spanish. She holds a BA from the University of California and an MA and PhD from the Johns Hopkins University School of Advanced International Studies.
