Daniel B. Prieto

Daniel B. Prieto is adjunct senior fellow for counterterrorism and national security at the Council on Foreign Relations (CFR). He is also vice president and senior fellow for homeland security and intelligence at IBM's Global Leadership Initiative. Previously, Mr. Prieto was a visiting scholar at Stanford University's Center for International Security and Cooperation (CISAC) and research director of the Homeland Security Partnership Initiative and fellow at the Belfer Center for Science and International Affairs at Harvard University's Kennedy School of Government, where he was also a graduate-level lecturer. Mr. Prieto has been a professional staff member on the Homeland Security Committee in the U.S. House of Representatives, senior advisor to the Commission on the National Guard and Reserve and member of the Markle Foundation Task Force on National Security in the Information Age. In the private sector—with AOL/Time Warner and J.P. Morgan—Mr. Prieto acted as a financial, technology, and strategic advisor on over $125 billion in transactions in the technology, media, and aerospace & defense sectors; he also advises a number of early-stage technology companies.

Mr. Prieto is the author of War About Terror: Civil Liberties and National Security after 9/11, a Council on Foreign Relations special report. He is co-author of Global Movement Management: Strengthening Commerce, Security and Resiliency in Today's Networked World and Neglected Defense: Mobilizing the Private Sector to Support Homeland Security. He is a contributing author to Threats at Our Threshold: Homeland Defense and Homeland Security at the Turn of the Century; The Forgotten Homeland; and Seeds of Disaster, Roots of Response: How Private Action Can Reduce Public Vulnerability. He has testified before the U.S. Senate, and his commentary and analysis have appeared in the Wall Street Journal, TIME Magazine, USA Today, Chicago Tribune, Washington Post, Washington Times, San Francisco Chronicle, The New Republic, Atlantic Monthly, The Bulletin of the Atomic Scientists, MSNBC, CNN, FOX, BBC, and NPR. Mr. Prieto is an honors graduate of Wesleyan University and the Johns Hopkins University School of Advanced International Studies (SAIS).
